Bell Potter and SuperGuardian have teamed up to provide Bell Potter SMSF Command – a cost effective and efficient way to administer your self-managed superannuation fund (SMSF or fund).

Designed to complement investment advice provided by your Bell Potter adviser, SMSF Command is an administration service and includes SMSF establishment or transfer, assistance with the compliance, accounting, administration, and the preparation of the fund's financials for audit.

SMSF establishment

We will handle all administration aspects of establishing the new SMSF, including the preparation of the fund's trust deed and all of the required compliance documentation. If you already operate an SMSF, we will arrange for the transfer of administration services to Bell Potter SMSF Command.

Fund accounting services

The team will tend to all the accounting requirements for your fund including:

- maintaining detailed member statements
- creating and maintaining detailed capital gains tax (CGT) records
- preparation of business activity statement (BAS)/ instalment activity statement (IAS)/ PAYG statements where required, and
- preparation of the annual fund tax return and other regulatory documentation.

Compliance and technical assistance

The trustees remain responsible for ensuring that the SMSF meets the legal and regulatory requirements, however Bell Potter and SuperGuardian are here to help monitor the fund for compliance with the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act (SIS Act). We will also assist you with technical issues relating to the fund or the situation of each member.

Pension accounts

We are here to help you decide whether to begin a pension account, prepare all the relevant documentation and monitor pension annual withdrawal minimums and maximums. As legislation constantly changes it is advantageous to have personalised assistance ensuring any pension account retains its tax free status.

Portfolio and fund reporting

The trustees will have access to online reporting and will be able to view up to date information on all the fund's investments including portfolio valuation, asset allocation, transactions, realised and unrealised CGT positions and income received. Member specific information can also be viewed including: member balances, contributions or pension withdrawals for the year to date and pension minimum and maximum payments for the current year. Trustees are also able to track the compliance of the asset allocation of their portfolio against their documented investment strategy.

Assets which can be held within Bell Potter SMSF Command.

SMSF Command can incorporate a very wide range of asset types including:

- cash, bank bills, term deposits, debentures and government bonds
- ASX and NSX listed securities including shares, company options, listed trusts, stapled securities, hybrid securities, exchange traded funds (ETF's) and warrants

Bell Potter is one of Australia's leading full service private client stockbroking and financial advisory firms. Bell Potter can provide the trustees of the fund with both personalised investment advice for the assets held by the fund and SMSF technical advice on all aspects of managing the fund.

They are responsible for the administration of the fund which includes: establishment or transfer, monitoring the on-going compliance, all accounting matters and guidance of a general nature.

The trustees of an SMSF must nominate an approved SMSF auditor. Bell Potter SMSF Command recommends Evolv. Evolv is an experienced SMSF auditor who will work closely with SuperGuardian to ensure an efficient process as your fund passes through audit.

Your investment adviser will be your primary point of contact. However, from time to time SuperGuardian may need to obtain further information or to gain clarification around an issue. You may nominate a trustee or your adviser to be the primary point of contact for SuperGuardian.

While the aim is to assist the trustees attend to all their duties, the responsibilities of the trustees are not diminished because of the assistance that Bell Potter and SuperGuardian provide.

Fund administration is important

The table following explains the features of Bell Potter SMSF Command, and lists various services provided by Bell Potter, both itself, and through SuperGuardian. The table also indicates various tasks which the trustee must perform. The table should not be interpreted as a complete statement of the tasks which are required of the trustee.

MANAGING YOUR FUND

Trust deeds

It is recommended that all trust deeds be prepared and reviewed by SuperGuardian's preferred legal supplier to ensure easy update and monitoring as legislation changes.

- A standard trust deed is sourced from SuperGuardian's preferred legal supplier for new funds.
- For an existing fund, the trustees can either:
 - Provide legal sign-off that the current trust deed complies with the super law and permits all investments, benefits and the entitlements allowed by super law at the time of transfer to the Bell Potter SMSF Command; or
 - Request that at the transfer stage, the deed be reviewed and amended if required by SuperGuardian's preferred legal supplier.

Note: SuperGuardian assumes no responsibility for ongoing trust deed updates until such time as the trustees request that the trust deed be amended by SuperGuardian's preferred legal supplier.

- Once the deed has been amended to the required standard of SuperGuardian's preferred legal supplier, SuperGuardian will continue to provide updates to the trustees when changes are needed.
- Neither SuperGuardian nor Bell Potter assume responsibility for the content of the trust deeds, nor whether they comply with super law.

Your investment advisers

As a trustee of the fund, one of your key areas of responsibility is to manage the fund's investments. Trustees can obtain investment advice from suitably licensed investment advisers, including a Bell Potter adviser in relation to the securities markets.

Bell Potter holds Australian financial services licence 243480 issued by ASIC, authorising Bell Potter to advise on a range of financial products, including:

- securities, including domestic and international equities, fixed interest and income-yielding securities
- derivatives including exchange traded options and warrants
- Australian and international managed funds
- bonds and debentures
- deposit and payment products, and
- superannuation.

Investment strategy

You are legally required to formulate and give effect to an investment strategy that has regard to (among other things):

- the risk and likely return from investments
- diversification (investing in a range of assets and asset classes)
- liquidity (how easily the fund's assets can be converted to cash to meet expected cash flow requirements)
- the ability to discharge liabilities (e.g. paying benefits when members retire and other costs)
- whether to have insurance cover for members.

The investment strategy must be reviewed regularly and whenever there is a change to the fund - e.g. a new member joins.

BELL POTTER SMSF COMMAND

Transactions within the fund

The trustees must ensure that these transactions are allowed under super law, the trust deed and the fund's investment strategy.

Trustees are recommended to obtain investment advice from an appropriately licensed adviser for each fund investment being considered or undertaken.

Corporate actions within the fund

Upon completion of the application forms, the registered mailing address for your assets will be changed to care of SuperGuardian. This will allow SuperGuardian to receive all documentation necessary to reconcile and report on the assets held within your fund.

Importantly, SuperGuardian or Bell Potter will not action any voluntary corporate action (e.g. share purchase plan, acceptance of takeover or acceptance of a rights issue) on behalf of the trustee.

As soon as the paperwork for a voluntary corporate action is received it is forwarded to the trustee (or if nominated, their adviser) to be actioned. This would include responding directly to the registry and providing funds where appropriate.

Member insurance

It is common for members to hold life insurance within their SMSF. While it is not mandatory for the trustee of a fund to maintain insurance on behalf of the members, legally the insurance needs of the members must be considered. Bell Potter is unable to provide insurance advice however we are able to introduce you to our preferred insurance provider for SMSF Command on request.

What is the trustee responsible for?

The Bell Potter SMSF Command service provides access to investment advice and comprehensive administration services to the trustee as outlined previously. Whilst the trustee can engage other people to do certain acts or things on their behalf, the ultimate responsibility is with the trustee. Trustee responsibilities include:

- determining each member's contribution status
- setting, monitoring and reviewing the fund's investment strategy and complying with super law
- making all investment decisions (see below)
- administering any non-securitised investments and forwarding all relevant documentation to SuperGuardian
- review, approval and execution of annual fund accounts and statutory returns
- managing any member and fund insurance requirements and policies (e.g. life, total and permanent disability, salary continuance, general insurance)
- review, approval and execution of minutes
- retention of some original documents (e.g. trust deed) as directed by the fund administrator
- provision of information and directions to the fund administrator, as required
- keeping the money and other assets of the fund separate from other money and assets (e.g. personal assets)
- actioning of all relevant corporate actions
- ensuring death benefit nomination forms are completed and kept up to date.

Notwithstanding that the trustee obtains investment advice (whether from a Bell Potter adviser or otherwise), you retain responsibility for investment decisions, and must take care to consider the suitability of each investment in the circumstances of the fund.

This may include, but is not limited to, considering the liquidity of investments, the extent to which an investment might involve gearing and the exposure of the fund to magnified losses as well as gains, and the extent to which an investment meets the trustees' requirements regarding diversification.

RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE FUND AND SUPERANNUATION

Taxation	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ The rate of income, capital gains or contributions tax payable may change due to changes in legislation or government policy.■ Additional taxes may be applied to areas of the fund; e.g. breaching the allowable annual concessional or non-concessional contribution caps may result in additional tax.
Access	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ Access to your superannuation may be restricted further by changes in legislation.
Investment return	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ The ultimate benefit from your fund will depend on the rate of return of the investments the trustee achieves and the application of taxes and other charges. No guarantee of return is expressed or implied. It is possible that the fund may experience negative returns.
Lack of understanding	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ Trustees and/or members may not understand their obligations, which may result in unintended costs or fines and, potentially, the loss of the fund's complying status.
Fraud or theft	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ A trustee or another party may defraud the fund and/or the members. SMSF investors are not entitled to receive compensation under the SIS Act in the event of fraud or theft.
Death of individual trustee	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ In the event an individual trustee dies, investments will need to be transferred into the names of the remaining trustees. This may give rise to taxation or stamp duty being imposed, depending on the investment being transferred.
Inappropriate investment strategy	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ The trustees may implement a poor or inappropriate investment strategy, which may result in the investments not meeting members' needs or a loss of capital.
Loss of complying status	<ul style="list-style-type: none">■ It is mandatory for any regulated superannuation fund to comply with super law at all times to ensure it retains its tax-advantaged status. If a fund loses its complying status, it can result in loss of the tax concessions that normally apply.

Bell Potter and SuperGuardian do not assume any responsibility for any of the risks associated with your SMSF.

ADDITIONAL EXPLANATION OF FEES AND COSTS

Transaction costs and commissions

Other fees such as stamp duty, government charges on monetary transactions and managed fund might also be incurred by your fund. This will depend on the nature of the underlying investments and the arrangements with your adviser.

Where you decide to invest in managed funds or a cash management account, remuneration payable to Bell Potter may also be reflected in the unit price or net investment returns of that investment. You should refer to the PDS for the specific managed fund(s) for full details of the fees and whether and how they may be negotiated.

Superannuation loan arrangement

If your fund enters into a superannuation loan arrangement, it will in most cases be required to pay ongoing borrowing costs and interest to the lender (and may also be required to pay fees and costs to the security custodian which holds the asset acquired under the superannuation loan arrangement). Please refer to the documents relating to the superannuation loan arrangement entered into by the fund for an understanding of the applicable interest, fees and costs.

Death and disability insurance charges

If the trustees arrange an insurance policy to be purchased on behalf of a member, the trustees can deduct the required insurance premiums from the member's account at the end of each month or such other period, as directed.

Asset valuations

Auditors will require valuations to be supplied for assets that cannot be readily valued, such as real estate, shares in private companies or units in unlisted trusts. The extent of these valuations will be determined by the auditor and may incur additional costs.

Incomplete applications

In accordance with the provisions of the Corporations Act, Bell Potter deposits money it receives relating to incomplete or out of date applications into a Bell Potter Cash Management Service (CMS) or Bell Potter Cash Account (CA), pending receipt of a completed application form. Where Bell Potter places deposits in relation to incomplete applications in the CMS or CA pending completion, the interest credited on the deposit will be the interest rate payable by the CMS or CA, as applicable. A management fee may be deducted, and you should refer to the PDS or prospectus for the CMS or CA for full details of applicable fees.

Preparation of previous year financial accounts

If your previous financial year accounts are incomplete, we can prepare these for you. The preparation of prior year(s) financial accounts is charged at a minimum of $1,450 per year and is payable to SuperGuardian. Bell Potter will disclose any additional fees, if applicable, to reconcile investment history onto our administration service upon the transfer of your existing fund.

The fees for external parties (administrator, auditor, actuary etc) are outside our control and may change at any time. Additional or new fees may be levied at any time by any of the third parties or regulatory bodies. Where possible we will endeavour to advise you of any such changes as they occur.

Fees quoted in this document include the GST and will be liable to change if the rate of GST changes in the future.

BELL POTTER SMSF COMMAND

Adviser remuneration

Your adviser may receive ongoing commissions for the sale of this service and the ongoing financial services being provided to your fund. The fees are deducted from your fund's operating cash account and are payable monthly in arrears.

Advisers may receive a salary, a discretionary bonus, or a proportion of the brokerage/fees charged by Bell Potter. Advisers may receive 45 – 50% of all fees and charges generated from their clients, depending on the level of salary and the aggregate revenue that they earn for Bell Potter. This will not impact the cost to you.

Your adviser's standard remuneration is paid out of the administration fee, after deducting service provider fees for fund and member administration of $1,450 and GST. The balance of the administration fee is retained by Bell Potter.

Example: The administration fee for a 12 month period is $2,400. From this fee, Bell Potter pays the service provider $1,450 p.a., $86 is GST and Bell Potter retains $864 p.a. The adviser will receive 45-50% of this amount.

Adviser service fee

In addition, an adviser service fee may be negotiated between you and your adviser.

This fee will be payable monthly in arrears from your fund's cash account, up to a maximum of 1.1% p.a. of the value of the fund's assets.

Note: Other fees may apply.

Where a Bell Potter Cash Management Service (CMS) is used as the fund's working cash account, a commission of 0.275% p.a. of the fund's cash balance may be paid to Bell Potter. This is not an additional charge paid by the fund.

Increases or alterations in the adviser's remuneration

In line with the ongoing financial services provided for your fund, in certain circumstances you and your adviser have the ability to negotiate higher or lower remuneration.

Details of the adviser service fee must be provided on your application form at the back of this Information Booklet or by your separate signed advice. You can cancel or change this arrangement by providing the trustee and your adviser with written notice. If you do decide to cancel any such arrangement with your adviser, the administration fee referred to above will still apply; however, there may be a change in the service provided and you should discuss this with your adviser.

Please consult the Bell Potter Financial Services Guide provided to you by your adviser for more information about the commissions that Bell Potter will receive in relation to any investment advice provided.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY SELECTION FORM

Fund Name	Account Number
-----------	----------------

INVESTMENTS

Setting an investment strategy for the fund should focus on the investment objective i.e. income, balanced or growth. This takes into account age and retirement time horizons and has regard to the risk tolerance levels of the members meeting their medium to long term objectives.

The asset allocation ranges should be set so that regular monitoring can be done in a meaningful manner. Wide ranges suggest either you have not thought about the strategy at all or that the fund is going to be a heavy trader and hence have a highly speculative investment strategy. The ranges are not a wish list or a maybe list, but should be set so that the fund can reasonably achieve them (e.g. a 30% range provides for market movements and asset sector adjustment). Do not fill in a category just because you think you might invest in it one day.

Cash should be set to a minimum of 5% of the assets or an amount (converted to a %) to allow for expenses to be met without the need to redeem investments.

Investing in assets not listed on a stock exchange may incur additional valuation costs to satisfy audit requirements.

STANDARD ASSET ALLOCATION

Depending on any restrictions in the trust deed or super law, non-standard assets may include such things as:

- Derivatives
- Shares in private companies
- Units in private unit trusts
- Artwork
- Farms

Non-standard assets need to be valued at arm's length (initially and ongoing) and are not such things as units in widely held unit trusts (i.e. managed investment schemes). Note that the assets underlying the investment may be split over the underlying standard asset allocation or may be categorized as 'options' or 'other' for reporting purposes. Non-standard assets may be generally illiquid, subject to the in-house asset rules, sole purpose test and other super law and may contain greater risk of financial loss (especially where underlying leverage forms part of the investment).

Where the investment strategy includes non-standard assets it will require the trustees to confirm the rationale for the selection of the particular investment and to detail risk management strategies put in place (e.g. for derivative investments a Derivatives Risk Statement is required).

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

1. I/We have taken into consideration investment risk and diversification, likely returns, underlying volatility of different assets, the need to meet member benefits when they fall due and to discharge existing and prospective liabilities, insurance cover and the general tax characteristics of the different assets;
2. I/We have elected to adopt the above investment strategy for our fund and request the trustees consideration to adopting this investment strategy;
3. In the event that I/we determine to change this investment strategy I/we will seek the trustees' approval; and
4. I/We acknowledge that the trustees are ultimately responsible for all investment decisions in the fund and that this form does not bind them to implement the asset allocation specified above.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This Information Booklet provides information about Bell Potter SMSF Command. It will help you to:

- Decide whether a self-managed superannuation fund (SMSF), and the securities advisory and administrative services to be provided to the trustees of the fund by Bell Potter Securities Limited (Bell Potter), will meet your needs; and
- Compare the SMSF and related services offered through Bell Potter SMSF Command with others you may be considering.

The trustees are responsible for ensuring that the fund is maintained for the purpose of providing benefits to members upon their retirement, or their dependants. The trustees must also ensure that the fund is properly managed and that it complies with super law and other legal obligations. Whilst the trustees can engage other people to do certain acts or things on their behalf (e.g. engaging the services of a superannuation fund administrator, tax agent, investment adviser, etc), they are bound to retain control over the fund and remain responsible for all its operations.

Bell Potter Securities Limited (Bell Potter) provides a range of functions under the Bell Potter SMSF Command service. Importantly, the service is structured in such a way that the trustees, who are responsible for managing the investments of the fund, can obtain investment advice from suitably licensed investment advisers, including a Bell Potter adviser in relation to the securities markets. Ongoing comprehensive monitoring and reporting in respect of the fund's investment portfolio is part of the Bell Potter SMSF Command service.

SuperGuardian Pty Limited (SuperGuardian) is an outsourced superannuation administration and accounting services provider who will be the fund administrator and will be responsible for the administration of superannuation matters in relation to the fund.
